Specialist Support Co-ordination

Practice Framework

Support Coordination Team's practice is based on relationship building.

- Our practice is holistic, proactive, adaptive, inclusive and reflective.
- We recognise constituents are the expert of their own lives and have capacity to make informed choices.
- We show unconditional positive regard, compassion, curiosity and patience as we support constituents to identify and achieve their goals, hopes and dreams.
- We acknowledge it is important for constituents, workers and members of the community to feel safe (both physically and emotionally) so that we can engage in honest dialogue to deal with hard issues and critical situations.
- We acknowledge and respect people from all cultural backgrounds and adopt transcultural practise.

Support Coordination Team's practice is based on reflection and best practice.

- We hold ourselves accountable to constituents, their significant others, CLA and the broader community by having proactive and ongoing dialogues about our roles, responsibilities and expectations.
- We demonstrate transparency with our work through engaging in ongoing learnings such as critical reflection, team meeting, supervision and other professional development opportunities.
- We practise gentleness and remain humble. We acknowledge there are gaps in our practice and strive to improve continuously.
- We practise self-care to enhance our physical, mental and emotional well-being.
- We celebrate achievements with constituents and their supporters.

Support Coordination Team's practice is based on building resources and capacity.

- We work with and build on constituents' and their supporters' strengths and resources as we navigate the NDIS and other systems together.
- We commit to gather, share and hold information respectfully to both the internal CLA community and external network.
- We seek to collaborate and maintain an effective working relationship with all stakeholders – having ongoing dialogues about roles, responsibilities and expectations.
- We support constituents and their supporters to make informed decisions.

Support Coordination team's practice includes sitting with dignity of risk and uncertainty.

- We seek to respond to constituents with complex support needs with respect, flexibility and creativity.
- We uphold constituents' rights and are committed to support them to have a voice and exercise their rights.
- We work alongside constituents to explore and implement innovative strategies to overcome personal, structural and systematic barriers.

Community Living AssociationPOLICY AND PROCEDURES*Trauma, Vicarious Trauma, Burnout and Self-Care*PREAMBLE

Work in community services and at CLA can be stressful and tiring as well as fulfilling and rewarding. The work at CLA can also involve working with people who have experienced trauma and may be experiencing trauma on a continuing basis. Work at CLA can also at times include involvement in situations where workers (paid staff) and volunteers may feel personally threatened. This happens rarely but can happen.

CLA identifies these potential not as a way of deterring people from working in the organisation but as a reality which people should be prepared for.

We encourage prospective workers, including students at CLA to reflect on their personal history of trauma and whether a) this might prevent them applying for a job at CLA or b) whether it is something they consider in their self-care plans. Prospective workers are encouraged to reflect on how they will plan for an appropriate work/life balance, monitor their sleep and self-care plans; if you are successful in being offered a position at CLA we will support you to reflect on these matters.

POLICY

CLA recognises the potential for burnout, vicarious trauma and trauma impacts of this work and will work with its workers to maintain appropriate self-care.

PROCEDURE

- Applicants for work at CLA will receive a copy of this policy and procedure as part of the Application Pack – included in Recruitment Checklist.
- Interview processes will include questions related to potential for exposure to vicarious trauma and trauma.
- This policy will be included in Induction Checklist.
- Supervision will include checking with workers on self-care plans and strategies. This will be written into every supervision agreement. (See Supervision Agreement)
- Workers are encouraged to consult resource material on burnout/vicarious trauma and trauma/self-care and sleep hygiene. (See Related Documents)
- Team Leaders and workers are reminded that if there are concerns about worker safety then safety plans need to be established. (See Section 2.4.12 Outreach Worker Safety Policy)

- It is not an expression of personal failure for workers to experience fatigue, apprehension or distress. It can be a natural reaction to stresses on the job. We encourage workers to be open about these feelings with their supervisor.
- Where workers are experiencing negative impact due to the work, team leaders will engage with them around remedial actions. These may include: self-care plans, safety plans, counselling, critical incident responses, disengagement from certain situations.
